HIP PROCEDURES

Eliminate Nerve Injury

Safely and effectively position patients without the need for a perineal post

Protection from Head to Toe

Maximize traction as well as protection against HAPIs with Hip Arthroscopy Boot liners

Patient Safety Advantages

- Significantly reduces risk of HAPI formation
- Postless approach requires shorter traction time, makes distraction easier, and improves C-arm visualization to allow for a more complete dynamic exam
- Significantly reduces post-operative pain and recovery times
- Requires no change to surgical technique
- Allows for a greater range of motion during surgery, making complex procedures easier
- Kits available for various tables

“The nice thing with a postless system is that it truly prevents skin and nerve damage to the perineum. Hip Arthroscopy typically takes from 1-2 hours to perform, and a large amount of pressure is applied to the perineum area. That pressure can be associated with skin injury and nerve injury in as many as 30-35% of cases. If you can eliminate the post, you can actually reduce that complication rate to 0%.
